The Free Lunch Program is a federally-funded child nutrition program sponsored locally by the City of Sacramento Department of Parks and Recreation. Any child ages 1-18 can show up at a summer food site (there are more than 125 sites in Sacramento County) and eat a free lunch. This program is intended to provide the nutritious lunch that so many kids depend on during the summer months, when school is out of session. Sites are located in kid-friendly places such as parks, recreation centers and apartment complexes. To find out about sites in your neighborhood, call the Summer Food Service Program at (916) 324-6153.

Jobs

Whether you baby-sit, bag groceries, or serve food, having a summer job gets you some extra cash and prevents boredom during those long, lazy summer days. Check local businesses for openings or go to www.sacjobs.com for a listing of local jobs.

The Regional Center for Volunteerism - HandsOn Sacramento programs are designed to impact two different, but equally important groups – the volunteers who provide service to the community, and the individuals and agencies who benefit from this support. The online database is populated with volunteer opportunities at 450+ nonprofits in the Sacramento Region. Volunteers can connect with one-time, ongoing, and skills-based volunteer opportunities based on their desired location, impact area, and time commitment.
