PROJECT

Odysseus, the HERO of the Odyssey, learns many lessons throughout his journey. Every obstacle or stumbling block he encounters helps him to realize his ultimate lesson – that without the gods he is nothing. As the HERO in your own story, write about one of obstacles that you have faced this year as a freshman at Del Campo high school. What have you learned through this challenge? How have you grown? Make sure you include the lesson(s) you learned through facing this trial. See example below.

Description of Obstacle: On the first day of school I got lost trying to find my first period class. Unfamiliar students hurriedly rushed passed me and I suddenly realized that I was alone, all alone, with no one to turn to. It was a frightening feeling going from being one of the oldest and wisest on a school campus to being one of the youngest and most insignificant.

Lesson(s) Learned: Humility is a valuable trait to possess. With it, you realize the importance of others and how significant the whole is rather than the parts.
