

Name:
 Teacher:
 Class:
 Date:

PEER REVIEW

Learning Target:

Writing Focus	Comment, Question or Suggestion
Quick Check Check and see if the items below have been included in the paper. If not, please make note of it. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Capitalized Title with Creative Subtitle 2. 12pt. Font 3. Double Spaced 4. Indented Paragraphs 5. Proper MLA Heading 6. Header (Last Name + #) 7. Divided into 5 Sections, titled, and written in order: Biography, Power and Domain, Symbols, Myth, Application
Read + Conventions Your task is to read the draft in front of you + correct any errors in Conventions. Circle any word that you believe is misspelled. Fix any capitalization or punctuation errors. Change anything that doesn't make sense and make sure that the author used past tense verbs.
Sentence Counts Check that the following sections have the correct Sentence Counts. If not, make note of it. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Biography: 8-10 + Quote 2. Power and Domain: 5-7 + Quote 3. Symbols: 5-7 + Quote 4. Myth: 8-10 + Quote 5. Application: 5-7
Parenthetical Citations Highlight every Parenthetical Citation. Check that the following rules have been applied. If not, make a note. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Punctuation follows the last parenthesis 2. Author's Last Name or "Title of Internet Article" is listed 3. Page numbers are written in parentheses for book sources

Biography

Check the questions below. If you answer “No” for any of them, write a note to the author to edit.

1. Did they provide thorough background information listed in chronological order?
2. Did they include at least one quote in this section?
3. Did they cite their sources?
4. Do the sentences flow from one to the next or does it sound awkward /choppy?

Power and Domain

Check the questions below. If you answer “No” for any of them, write a note to the author to edit.

1. Did they describe where their topic resided?
2. Did they include what their topic had power over or controlled?
3. Did they include at least one quote in this section?
4. Did they cite their sources?
5. Do the sentences flow from one to the next or does it sound awkward /choppy?

Symbols

Check the questions below. If you answer “No” for any of them, write a note to the author to edit.

1. Did they choose at least two symbols and explain how they relate to their topic?
2. Did they include at least one quote in this section?
3. Did they cite their sources?
4. Do the sentences flow from one to the next or does it sound awkward /choppy?

Myth

Check the questions below. If you answer “No” for any of them, write a note to the author to edit.

1. Did they include a summary of only one myth?
2. Did they include at least one quote in this section?
3. Did they cite their sources?
4. Do the sentences flow from one to the next or does it sound awkward /choppy?

Application

Check the questions below. If you answer “No” for any of them, write a note to the author to edit.

1. Did they explain how their character or myth relates to today’s world or how we can learn from them?
2. Did they offer thoughtful insight or was it inappropriate and childish?

Reviewed By: _____