Peppa what are you doing on my newspaper?

Are you wondering why Peppa Pig is so popular? Is it a VSCO thing? Is it a cool thing to put on a Hydro Flask. “Skksk Skksk and I oop.” Mr. Dolan states “Everyone likes a good pig.” Peppa pig is on reusable water bottles, signs, and much, much more. But, why do you think Peppa is so popular. Is it because she is apparently 7 feet tall? Maybe Peppa Pig is so cool because she is simply just superior to the human race.

If Peppa is so popular, why is she a cartoon for little kids? Older kids probably watch it more than little kids now. “The anthropomorphic British piglet is the star of a hugely popular children's cartoon, a recording artist as of Friday and the face of a brand that rakes in more than $1 billion annually” according to Statista. And now, she's at the center of a Twitter storm thanks to what appears to be a doctored Google search that has sent users hog wild.

Maybe Peppa pig is so popular because she in so many memes? Plus 2019 is all about those memes. Maybe she so popular because most people have siblings and have to watch it when they have nothing to do, so they just make fun of it? Whatever the reason is for this Peppa pig will always be a kid show legend.

Would Peppa pig be as popular if it wasn't a meme? What would happen if Peppa pig turned into a whole new show? Would it still be popular? Is it just popular because of Peppa or is it the whole show in general? All these questions are not answered, but for now I would be fine watching Peppa pig.
