Term 3 grades are finalized and will be posted on 4/21. These grades are A, B, CR (credits received), NC (no credits received). As we move forward into Term 4, I will be using primarily Khan Academy for both IM 1 and AP Stats. Most students have gained access through the link I posted in our Google Classroom. AP Stats is also support by their account on APCentral where free online practice is being offered for the AP Exam. Google Classroom is the main form of communication between myself and the students. It is here where they can stay on top of lessons, assessments, and critical information. The Khan Academy lessons provide instructional videos, practice sets, articles, quizzes, and unit tests. In addition, I will occasionally provide additional tutorials through mrmathblog.com and other sources to support student learning. The expectation is that the student is doing the work. Each Monday I will assign the work for the week which will be due that Friday by 5pm. Term 4 grades will be CR/NC.
