| Comprehensive Intervention Model* (CIM)      | K-8             | CIM is five different small group interventions developed by examining research on successful literacy practices. All interventions are structured around predictable lesson components and established routines with daily instruction. Within this framework, teachers/interventionists employ data-driven, decision-making processes, including selecting books, prompting for strategies and teaching for independence and transfer. | 2     | Christy Redmon-Germany

| Reading Recovery | 1      | Reading Recovery is a highly effective short-term intervention of daily one-to-one lessons that supplement good classroom teaching for the lowest achieving 1st graders. What Works Clearinghouse (WWC) states Reading Recovery achieved strong results with positive ratings or potentially positive ratings across all four areas studied: alphabetic (phonemic awareness and phonics), fluency, comprehension and general reading achievement. The goal is to dramatically reduce the number of 1st grade students with extreme difficulty learning to read and write. | 3     | Christy Redmon-Germany

| PRIDE PAK                                    | High school students from Gay-Straight Alliances (GSA) | PRIDE PAK was created to give student members an opportunity to promote equity and safer learning environments for all diverse student populations on their campuses. PRIDE PAK is currently comprised of students from the GSA clubs at each of SJUSD’s high schools. Through workshops, outreach and various site-based campaigns, these students are dedicated to ensuring our campuses are inclusive to all unique populations of students. PRIDE PAK has hosted 3 districtwide student led conferences since April 2017. These conferences educate staff on inclusive practices, terminology and legal matters for our LGBTQ+ community. | 1     | Lori Vine
