Friday Memo

May 4, 2018

Happy Friday, I hope you've all had a great week!

On Thursday, we had a kickoff meeting for the Del Campo High School signature project – an Integrated Learning Building that will provide next-generation classrooms for science and career-technical education (CTE) courses. The meeting on Thursday was a great start and gave our team a chance to dial-in on what the full program on that building will be, and walk the existing CTE and science courses that will be moving into the new building.

Also on Thursday, McCarthy and WLC Architects presented the Del Paso Manor staff with a virtual reality tour of their future campus, showing them what the new classrooms and other features will look like. The design of the campus has been very well received, and the team always appreciates staff feedback as the project moves forward.

Finally, I wanted to note that we are giving Project Planner/Coordinator John Parham a happy sendoff today as he and his family are moving to Idaho. John brought a very high level of expertise to all areas of the construction process, and we really appreciated his specific skills in electrical and low voltage applications. We are going to miss him around the office and wish him the best on his new adventures in Idaho.

Have a great weekend,

Brett A. Mitchell
