Friday Memo

Aug. 10, 2018

Happy Friday, I hope you've all had a great week!

The summer construction season has come to an end as we prepare for teachers and students to return to classrooms next week. Our staff has been extremely busy with projects, and some much needed vacations. Thank you for your patience, and I look forward to issuing more frequent memos throughout the school year.

Our team has been so busy that we are in the process of interviewing for a third construction manager position to help oversee our large and complex project load. We look forward to finding the right person to add to the team as we continue to increase our capacity to improve schools.

Today, we finalized the GMP for the Dyer-Kelly Elementary School new campus project, and will be taking that contract to the Board of Education at its next meeting. We are extremely pleased with how our relationship with construction partners, contractors and subcontractors through the Design-Build process allowed us to bring an extremely strong value to the project.

When you get a moment, please check out the live cameras we have installed at our Dyer-Kelly, Greer and El Camino projects. It's a great way to see the progress, and each website has a link to time-lapse video as well.

Reminder: The next Bond Oversight Committee meeting is Tuesday, Aug. 21 at the Facilities Office – 5320 Hemlock St., Sacramento CA 95841. See you all there!

Have a great weekend,

Brett A. Mitchell
